MEET KIRSTAL

A Peer Support Worker who builds connection through creativity, gaming, and shared interests - drawn to ESports Collective because of the way fandoms and special interests are celebrated.

A LITTLE ABOUT ME

HI, I'M KIRSTAL

I'm a Peer Support Worker at ESports Collective who loves helping people thrive, build confidence, and discover new things through shared interests and genuine connection. A big part of how I connect with people comes through creativity, gaming, and storytelling - I'm passionate about fantasy worlds, especially Dungeons & Dragons, and I love how games and shared hobbies can bring people together in a way that feels natural and welcoming. Whether it's teaching someone a new game, exploring a creative interest together, or chatting about fantasy and comics, I aim to create a space where people feel relaxed and able to be themselves.

WHERE I'M COMING FROM ### MY LIVED EXPERIENCE

One of the things I value most in peer support is trust. I want the people I support to feel comfortable communicating openly, knowing they have someone beside them who genuinely listens and cares. I naturally connect with a wide range of people - especially gamers, creative people, quieter personalities, and anyone who may struggle with confidence or social connection. I understand how important it can be to find "your people" and have spaces where you feel safe and understood. That's the experience I want to help make possible for the people I support, and the reason I'm in this work in the first place.

WHY I'M HERE

Hobbies like gaming, drawing, crafting, comics, and reading can be more than just interests - they can become safe spaces where people build friendships, manage stress, express themselves, and feel like they truly belong. ESports Collective is one of those spaces, and that's exactly why I wanted to be part of it. I bring warmth, creativity, and a genuine love of shared interests, and I'm here to help people feel right at home being themselves.
